

Book signing event and reading with the author

AMY WU

Award-winning writer for the women's ag and agtech movement

Free book to the first 25 attendees

Refreshments provided

Tuesday, April 12, 4:00-5:30pm

UC Merced Campus Conference Center, Room 110

About the author

Amy Wu is the Creator & Chief Content Director of From Farms to Incubators

In 2020 Amy was named on Worth magazine's "Groundbreakers 2020 list of 50 Women Changing the World" list. She was also a recipient of the Women in Agribusiness Demeter Award of Excellence.

Prior to starting From Farms to Incubators, Amy spent over two decades as an investigative reporter at media outlets including the USA Today Network where she reported on agriculture and agtech for The Salinas Californian.

TO INCUBATORS

FROM FARMS

About From Farms to Incubators

From Farms to Incubators, a multimedia platform that uses documentary, video, photography and the written word to tell the stories of women leaders and innovators in agtech. It has a mission of highlighting women in food, farming, and farmtech, especially women of color.

From Farms to Incubators has a mission of connecting and empowering women in agrifoodtech. Initiatives include using storytelling, notably articles, documentary and photography, to amplify the voices and contributions of women leaders and entrepreneurs in agrifoodtech. The organization also provides resources, events, education + training and mentorship for women working in agrifoodtech, or those who are interested in exploring career opportunities in the field.

Presented by

CITRIS AND THE BANATAO INSTITUTE

LABOR AND AUTOMATION IN CALIFORNIA AGRICULTURE